COOL OFF AT A CITY OF DUBLIN FACILITY

DUBLIN, Calif., June 29, 2013 – With forecasters predicting temperatures to exceed 100-degrees on Saturday and Sunday, the possibility of heat exhaustion or stroke is a real danger. Dublin has several great facilities to beat the heat in various locations throughout the City that are open and available to the public for use throughout the day. Hours vary at each location, and the City is extending hours of some facilities this Saturday, June 29.

The Dublin Senior Center located at 7600 Amador Valley Boulevard features a lounge area with a television, reference computers, lending library and puzzle table. The 100-foot long waterslide features a cool splash down at the end.
